"August Flower"

Dyspepsia. There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written us a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:

"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for Indigestion, and Constipation we

Indigestion. have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with Dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out Constipation of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with Indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two teaspoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed."

The Romance of Washing.

It is wonderful how every little duty and necessity of every day life is surrounded with a halo of charm and legendary lore. Some things seem so simple and practical that we imagine that nothing of a weird description can possibly be associated with them, yet in many instances the simpler the operation the greater the affinity it appears to have for things supernatural.

Offhand, we should say that washing cannot be invested with any romance, but old wives will tell us otherwise. Woe betide the person that dares to wash his or her hands in the same basin of water that has been or will be used by another individual! They will be sure to quarrel. Or, again, if you wipe your hands upon the same towel and at the same time with another person, you and that person will at some period of your lifetime go begging together.

The late Cuthbert Bede, however, tells us that he was informed in Rutlandshire that these dreadful things would not happen provided you first made the sign of the cross over the water. Another curious thing, too, in connection with this is that the quarrel only supervened when a basin of water was used. You might wash together in a running stream as often as you pleased and no ill effect would come of it.—Chambers' Journal.

Ancient American Cloths.

The Mexicans spun and wove cotton, and the Peruvians both cotton and wool, into fabrics which the Spaniards found in every way equal to anything they had known at home. The Peruvians, in particular, were adepts in the art. When Pizarro made the conquest of their country in 1533, he found in the empire of the Incas four species of animals little different from each other, which he called the sheep of the country (carneros de la tierra), because of their general resemblance to the Spanish sheep, and the similar utilization of its fiber.

Two of the species, the llama and alpaca, had been in a state of domestication from time immemorial, the remaining varieties, the vicuna and the guanaco, living in a wild state in the fastnesses of the Andes. From a variety of sources we are able to obtain minute details of the importance which the government attached to these animals, and the large part which they played in the domestic economy of the country.—S. N. D. North in Popular Science Monthly.

Poison of the Centipede.

The centipede is popularly supposed to carry a sting on each foot, but I have several times handled them—after their heads were removed—without the claws producing any result. It is the first pair of claws only that are venomous, being hollow and provided with poison bags like a snake's fang. The largest I ever saw was eleven inches in length, a grown-up creature. A bite from one of this size would most likely have been fatal to a man in weak health. The tarantula, though his powers of offense are nothing like those of the scorpion or centipede, is, somehow, a more unpopular character than either. The horror of these large spiders entertained by many people is curious and unaccountable. I have seen Austrian bushmen, who in every day life scarcely seemed to understand danger, turn white as a sheet at the sight of a small "tarantolepe," as they called it.—Chambers' Journal.

Revenge After Death.

The wife of a wealthy but careful American gentleman objected to ask for the housekeeping money as it was required, in small sums, on the ground that it was a waste of time and derogatory to her. She demanded a banking account, and finally, by her persistence, obtained one. But her husband had his revenge. At his death he left her all he possessed on this condition: The amount, over a million dollars, was to be handed to her, personally, at his lawyer's office, at the rate of $100 an hour during twelve hours of each day. Thus was she, in the event of failure to set the condition aside, condemned to spend over 10,000 hours at or near the abode of the man of law, or nearly two years and a quarter, reckoning twelve hours to the day.—London Tit-Bits.

Queen Victoria's Special Edition.

A royal edition of The Daily Telegraph is prepared and issued daily for the queen's special sight. This has been the case ever since the death of the prince consort, on which occasion The Telegraph obituary notice so pleased the queen that she ordered a copy of the paper to be sent to each of her palaces daily. Since then twenty-five copies of the newspaper have been issued on the best of paper in truly royal style; so that if her majesty should take a fancy to glance down the columns of this widely circulated daily she has the privilege of knowing that she reads an edition expressly prepared for herself.—Irish Times

The Towers of Silence.

In Persia stand two towers called by the Parsees the "Towers of Silence." According to the religion they never bury their dead, but have the body exposed on the top of one of these towers until the sun and the rain and the fowls of the air have cleaned the bones of all flesh. The bones are then collected and placed in the other tower. These Parsees, who are followers of Zoroaster, and very devout, have almost disappeared as a people, there being only about 8,000 of them at the present time.—Detroit Free Press.

THE KANSAS ALLIANCE.

The administration and federal office holders generally have a wholesome dread of the Farmers' Alliance. That organization has made the Republican stronghold in the Northwest doubtful, with the chances greatly in favor of the opposition. Kansas, which gave Harrison a plurality of over 80,000 in 1888, last year elected a Farmers' Alliance Legislature, which elected a United States Senator to succeed Ingalls. The State also changed its Congressional delegation, which was solidly Republican in the Fifty-first Congress, to two Republican and five Alliance men in the next Congress.

To counteract the moral effect of this political revolution, the story has lately been industriously circulated that twenty-three Alliance organizations in Kansas had repudiated the new party and returned to the old parties with which the members had formerly affiliated. The Voice, the temperance organ, took pains to investigate the report that the Alliance was disbanding, and in its issue of July 9th it pronounces it a falsehood, pure and simple.

NEGLECTED NEVADA.

The Eureka Sentinel tells how shamefully Nevada has been neglected by the Harrison administration. It has received none of the federal patronage which is usually distributed among the States, not even a clerkship in the departments at Washington.

"We have not," says the Sentinel, had a dollar in three years to extend the surveys to the public lands in this State, and there is little prospect that we will ever get a cent. It was the old rule under Cleveland and preceding administrations to expend $15,000 annually for this purpose. If our delegation at Washington were not grossly incompetent it would see to it that the old rule was still kept in force. Under the present conditions an actual settler cannot get his home surveyed in Nevada. No wonder our population has decreased twenty-five per cent. in ten years. There are neither inducements nor facilities for people to make homes in our State. And worst of all, the dominant party in nation and State, which alone has the power to help us, by its hostility to silver and our other local interests and wants, seems determined to grind us still further into the dust. Republican rule and policy are depopulating Nevada day by day."

WANAMAKER MUST GO.

The rumor comes from Washington that there is good reason for believing that Postmaster General Wanamaker will not remain much longer in the cabinet. He may be reluctant to retire under suspicion of crookedness, but the probabilities are that he will have no choice in the matter. His connection with Barclays and the Keystone Bank of Philadelphia is more than the President thinks the people will stomach, so to save the administration from the disgrace of knowingly countenancing fraud, Wanamaker will very likely be invited to resign. However, a party that can stand Quay at the head of its National Executive Committee, cannot consistently complain at the retention of Wanamaker in the cabinet.

The National Federation of America, organized to aid in the movement for home rule in Ireland, has issued an address in which, after severely denouncing Parnell, it refers to the fact that a general election will shortly take place, which, it is conceded, will settle the home rule question for another generation at least. The address, therefore, invites all who sympathize with the cause to lend their assistance and enroll freely in the Federation.

It was rumored yesterday in New York that the Standard Oil Company had purchased the Huntington and Seneca interest in the Southern Pacific Company. Railroad officials in San Francisco denied all knowledge of the transaction. They said, however, that similar rumors had been about occasionally for two or three years.

A report has reached San Diego that the Chilean insurgents have achieved a decisive naval victory over the government in a naval battle between the insurgent cruiser Magallanes and several government war vessels.

Stock cattle have been selling in Utah at the rate of $10 for yearlings, $15 for two-year-olds, three-year-olds $18 and four-year-olds $20. Stock sheep are worth since shorn from $2 to $3 75 per head.

Forest Fires in Michigan.

ESCANABA, Mich., July 14.—The forest fires Monday afternoon burned the hamlet of Whitney, eighteen miles west of here on the Fetch branch of the Northwestern road. Everything was burned except the store and charcoal kilns. Seventeen families are burned out.

A SERIOUS RIOT.

Two Men Killed and Several Wounded. Special to the Journal.

SAN DIEGO, July 14.—A riot occurred here to-day in which one man was killed and another fatally injured and two Deputy United States Marshals wounded. This afternoon Deputy United States Marshals S. Bredlove, Webb, Wilson and Grether attempted to arrest some sailors of the cruiser Charleston who had overstayed shore leave and were carousing in a saloon. There were eleven sailors in the saloon and as Marshal Bredlove arrested one, the others surrounded him and prevented the officer from taking the sailor out. Clubs were drawn by the deputies and a free fight ensued. Constable Mitchell came to the assistance of the deputies but the street became crowded with longshoremen, sailors and citizens and the fight became general. It looked as if the officers would be killed, but the patrol wagon arrived with reinforcements and arrested the sailors, who were taken to jail. When the patrol left the crowd again attacked the officers with pickhandles, gas-pipes and other weapons. Officer Grether drew a pistol as the crowd was clamoring for his life. Another constable drove up in a buggy and took Grether away, just in time, for the crowd had grown desperate. The other officers finally got away and the wounded were picked up. Robert Brown, a sailor on the Charleston, died in a few minutes from the effects of a blow on the head with a club, said to have been inflicted by Deputy Wilson. Another Charleston sailor named Raddy Berra, is dying with a fractured skull. Deputies Bredlove and Grether are badly bruised about the head, and a number of other persons injured.

There is great excitement on the streets and threats of lynching all the deputies concerned in the trouble are being freely made, if the excited longshoremen and sailors can lay hands on them.

The sympathy of the community seems to be with the sailors, as it is said the officers were too officious and for the sake of securing the reward offered for deserters, they undertook to arrest the sailors whose shore leave had not expired.

Wilson, Bredlove and Grether have disappeared and cannot be found. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of all the deputies concerned.

THE OHIO CONVENTION.

Campbell to be Nominated To-day. Special to the Journal.

CLEVELAND, July 14.—Governor Campbell will be the nominee of the Democratic Convention to-morrow for Governor of Ohio. The contest will be short and decisive and will be concluded with the first ballot. Governor Campbell will receive far more than enough votes to nominate him, but the anti-Campbell delegates insist they will go on record in opposition in order to prevent a unanimous nomination. There have been many worldly warfares in the hotel lobbies to-day between the Campbell delegates and their demonstrative opponents, and in several cases the disputes went to such an extent that admirers of the Governor answered the threats of the Hamilton county delegates by declaring that Campbell could be both nominated and elected without the help of Cincinnati. All the while angry wrangling was in progress this evening in front of the Plaindealer Office between Peter Nolan, a Campbell man, and an amateur prize fighter, and William and James Patterson. The Neal delegates are all understood to be from Cincinnati. The lie was passed and in an instant revolvers were drawn. A lively fusillade followed, in which four or five shots were fired with mild results. An innocent bystander received one of the bullets, after which the weapons were used as clubs with more appreciable effect on the contestants. They all received numerous gashes over the head and were bleeding profusely when arrested. This unfortunate incident tended at once to restore a more philosophical feeling all around.

The party leaders of all factions immediately united in a vigorous protest against the wranglers and to-night petty disputes are discontinued by all and a strong attempt is being made to restore partial harmony.

The Seal Fisheries.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Acting Secretary Wharton of the Department of State has sent instructions to Professors Mendenhall and Merriam, expert agents appointed to go to Alaska to learn all the facts respecting seal fisheries. These instructions are to collect all possible information upon the subject of breeding places, effects of pelagic sealing, diminution of the number of seals, the proper lines of demarcation in the event that the close season is regarded necessary, and the proper months to be included in such seasons. The United States steamship Marion, which will convey the agents to Alaska, is now at Port Townsend, Washington, and expected to sail on the 17th.

The Anniversary of the Fall of the Bastille. Special to the Journal.

PARIS, July 14.—The fourteenth of July, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille, was observed in this city and throughout France with appropriate ceremonies and a general holiday of rejoicing. In this city there was an imposing procession of the Alsace-Lorraine Societies. Enormous crowds of people saluted the men in line with cries of "Vive la France." The procession stopped at the Strasbourg statue and laid memorial wreaths, bouquets and tri-color flags upon it. President Carnot held a grand reception while reviewing the troops comprising the garrison of Paris.

The President and Cardinal Gibbons. Special to the Journal.

CARLE MAX, July 14.—Last Saturday the President and Cardinal Gibbons accidentally met here, and there was a cordial greeting between them. The President introduced the subject of the Cahensu memorial, and said, while having no disposition to interfere in church matters, he was glad to have the opportunity for expressing his satisfaction at the published remarks of the Cardinal, and at the merited rebuke administered at home and abroad to foreign interference in our domestic affairs. The Cardinal, it is said, was deeply impressed and very much pleased with the President's views on the subject.

Cannot Draw His Salary.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Judge Cronquist of Nebraska, who succeeded General Bachevalier of New York as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, will receive no pay for his services unless the Senate confirms his appointment. This is in accordance with the opinion of the Attorney General that a person appointed during the recess of Congress to an office which was vacant while that body was in session is not entitled to any compensation until after confirmation.

Murder and Suicide.

Special to the Journal.

GARDINER, Mo., July 14.—Thomas Vachon, a French Canadian laborer, aged about 25, from St. Raymond, Quebec, shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Nora Landry, and then suicided. Vachon boarded with Landry's formerly, and when sick they turned him out when his money was gone. The grudge he held against them resulted last night in the shooting.

Two Men Killed by an Explosion.

Special to the Journal.

New York, July 14.—Men were discharging the cargo of a vessel when a box of dynamite cartridges blew up. Cornelius Hayes and Wm. Reagan were blown to pieces, and four other men painfully injured. The explosion raised the deck and blew a big hole in the port side of the ship.

Murdered and Thrown Into the River. Special to the Journal.

BOLTONVILLE, A. T., July 14.—The body of an unknown man was found in the Gila river near Thomas Sunday. The head was crushed in and the flesh cut from the face to prevent identification. There is no clue as to the perpetrator of the crime.

Out of the Question.

Many pleasanties are written and spoken about the capriciousness of female servants, but it is doubtful if, as a class, they approach in capriciousness the male domestic servants employed by the rich. Good male servants are hard to get, and proportionately hard to please.

A gentleman had engaged an English valet de chambre at good wages, and everything had apparently been satisfactorily arranged, when the man said: "Might I ask, sir, if I'm to wear livery, sir?"

"Yes."

"And what color will the waist be, sir?"

"Red."

"Ow, indeed! Then I can't take the place, sir. I'm much too blond, you know, for to wear a red waist, sir!"—Yonth's Companion.

Tracks of a Big Bird.

More ancient bird tracks have been found in a stone quarry about a mile and a half north of Holyoke. They are each 11 inches in length, three claws to each foot. The tracks are 4 feet 10 inches apart. There are eleven tracks in consecutive order, leading up hill. Each track is imbedded in the stone ten inches. They are very perfect; even the toe nails are distinct. Several Easthampton men have tried to buy them. The owner has offered to get them out in good shape and deliver them for $1,000. Other tracks were found near by, but they are not as perfect as these eleven.—Greenfield (Mass.) Gazette.

RAILWAY LITERATURE.

THE GUIDE BOOKS THAT ARE PUBLISHED BY RAILROADS.

Vast Sums Are Spent in Hiring Capable Writers and Exceptional Artists to Produce Scenery for Costly Volumes to Advertise the Line.

The greatest rivalry among railroad men is in the getting out of guide books. Several years ago a rich southern railroad published a luxuriously gotten up book as handsome as almost any example of a rich edition of Shakespeare that men and women display upon a parlor center table. It was thought then that the limit of enterprise and expenditure had been reached, and that there never would be anything finer bearing the imprint of a general passenger office.

But that elegant volume is almost forgotten now. Its defects were that its pictures were ready made, and represented a low grade of art, while the letter press, or reading matter, was the work of the general passenger agent—a clever man but not a professional writer. Today no such pictures and no such writing is accepted for a representative guide book.

A school of artists has grown up to meet the demand for such work, and they are salaried by the big printing and bank note engraving companies that get out these books. They produce careful, artistic and clever pictures, and manage to give them the appearance of the choicest pictures in the magazine.

As a matter of fact, the latest guide books are imitations of the magazine in every particular except that they include no advertising pages. But the more wealthy railroads will not employ these professional guide book illustrators. They secure high class artists who are too independent to sign their names to what they do, but provide the best work of which they are capable, because they are better paid for it than for any other work that they do.

BIG PRICES PAID FOR WORK.

Men who study such matters are able to recognize the personality of the artists in their methods of drawing, and such persons often see a painting or a study of a picturesque place in one of the art galleries or at an art sale at the same time that they receive a copy of some guide book illustrating other beauty spots in the same region in a set of drawings by the very same artist, who has been whirled hither and thither in that part of the country in a special car at the expense of the railroad company that monopolizes the traffic.

In that same car with the artist goes the general passenger agent, but he no longer writes the matter in the book. He has secured the services of some well known literary man of the second or third class to describe the region with his pen on a higher rate of remuneration than the writer could get for any other work. Two thousand dollars is below the highest price that has been paid for the illustrations in a single guide book, and in all probability no first class book of the kind has been written for less than $500.

These books have been poured from the presses of the best printers in the country in editions of from 5,000 to 10,000 copies, and have cost the railroads from five to twenty cents a copy. Some are designed to appear like novels, some like stories of adventure and some like books of travel. Their titles are such as are likely to prove attractive to large bodies of citizens.

Not to quote any one of them, but to show what sort of bait they throw to the public, they may be said to be named in some such way as these: "Where to Camp Out," "Where to Go This Summer," "Three Days and a Thousand Trout," "Hunting the Mountain Goat," "Pure Air and Balsam Pines," "Country Board," "Cheaper Than Staying Home." One enterprising western railroad man has issued a little book on etchings, exquisitely printed, and made to close up into a large envelope tied with a satin bow knot.

SOME NOTABLE PECULIARITIES.

Some of the very best map making that has been done in this country has grown out of the competition in guide books. Just at present the rage is for bird's-eye views, however, and these are cleverly made to show every hill and stream and village and patch of forest in vast areas of country. They all omit every indication of marsh land, and all are printed with green ink, in order to produce the most astonishing effects of universal greenery, shade and coolness.

It is a noticeable characteristic of all them that they show only one railroad, never any more. No guide book published exhibits Chicago as accessible by more than one railroad, and enormous tracts like North Dakota and Utah are made to appear to depend upon a single line of rails for their means of internal traffic. In such maps railroads seem to reach a degree of perfection that is not noticed by those who travel most upon them.

For instance, they are always straight, direct lines from point to point, precisely like the great highway that Nicholas marked down upon the map of Russia with a pencil and a ruler in order to show his engineers how he would connect Moscow with St. Petersburg. Not even the Rocky mountains are able to hinder the absolutely straightforward course of any railroad. Or the maps the line of the tracks goes straight along past the mountains as if they were mere ruts in a wheat field. The reading matter in the guide books shows that each railroad avoids mosquitoes and malarial regions with the same success.

Where there are no mosquitoes the writers say so, and where they are as thick as peas in a pod the most dignified silence is maintained with regard to them. But there one sees how greatly competition has elevated this class of literature, for only a few years ago these books were as unreliable as the old fashioned circus posters. They do not lie today. The next thing will be that they will tell the truth.—New York Sun.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its economy—Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said to "One Hundred Doses" require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, has never attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. At a late hour last evening the body of Ernest Williams, who was drowned in the Truckee near Glendale, had not been recovered. The afflicted parents request as a great favor that all persons having business along the river below Glendale will keep a look out for the body and report any news they may have to them. Diligent search was made yesterday along the river but no trace of the body was found.

The State Prison is being filled with persons sentenced for selling whisky to Indians. As the laws of the Federal Government prohibit the sale of whisky to Indians who have not severed their tribal relations, the State officers should let the Federal authorities prosecute those guilty of the offense, and provide for keeping them during their term of imprisonment. The General Government does nothing for Nevada if it can help it, and Nevada should let the General Government enforce the laws against selling whisky to Indians.

THE FAHO BANK ROBBERY.

Horn on Trial in the District Court.

The trial of Thomas C. Horn, indicted for robbing a faro bank at the Palace Hotel last April, commenced in the District Court before Judge Cheney yesterday. Considerable prominence was given the case from the fact that it was one of the boldest ever attempted in the State, and the person accused of committing it was one of Pinkerton's detectives. The robber entered the house by a back way, ascended the stairs from the barroom in which there were several persons, drew a mask over his face at the head of the stairs and presenting a pistol at the dealer and canteen keeper, as they were closing the game, took $690, descended the stairs and escaped through the back way. Shortly afterwards Horn was arrested as he boarded the west-bound train shortly before midnight. About $270 in gold coin was found in his possession. He was examined before Justice Linn, held to answer, and was subsequently indicted by the Grand Jury and admitted to bail.

The prosecution is conducted by District Attorney Julien and ex-Congressman Woodburn, and the defense by J. L. Wines and J. W. Dorsey. The following named persons were impeached as a jury to try the case: Ed. Harris, J. B. Caine, G. F. Marsh, Fred Hagerman, J. C. Haynes, Eugene Blasdel, Thomas Hill, E. Twaddle, D. L. Hunt, J. E. Phillips, L. F. Lemmon, and E. H. Proctor.

Three witnesses were examined yesterday for the prosecution, namely, J. D. Pollard, Dr. Bergstein and Constable Upson. Last evening the case was continued until 9 o'clock this morning.

Considerable interest is being taken in the case by the public.

THE EARLY PROSPECTOR.

A Tribute to His Many Virtues.

The Century Magazine for June has an article from E. C. Wach, on the early miners, from which the following is an extract:

"The early miner has never been truly painted. I protest against the flippant style and eccentric rhetoric of those writers who have made him a terror, seizing upon a sporadic case of some drunken specimen or extreme oddity, have given the caricature to the world as a typical miner. The so-called literature that treats of the golden era is too extravagant in this direction. In all my personal experience in mining camps from 1849 to 1854 there was not a case of violence. I doubt if a more orderly society was ever known. How could it be otherwise? The pioneers were young, ardent and uncorrupted, most of them well educated and from the best families in the East. The early miner was ambitious, energetic and enterprising. No undertaking was too great to daunt him. The pluck and resources exhibited by him in attempting mighty projects, with nothing but his courage and his brawny arms to carry them out, was phenomenal. His generosity was profuse and his sympathy active, knowing no distinction of race. His sentiment that justice is sacred was never dulled. His services were at command to settle differences peaceably, or with pistol in hand to right a grievous wrong to a stranger. His capacity for self-government never had been surpassed. Of a glorious epoch, he was of a glorious race."

Board of Pardons.

The board met at 10 A. M. Monday morning with Governor Colcord, Judges Bigelow, Belknap and Murphy and Attorney General Torreyson, present.

In the matter of the application of James Caldwell, the Board of Prison Commissioners having restored his credits, there was no action necessary.

B. J. Cosgrove, sent from Elko for life, in the second degree, was refused a pardon.

The cases of Geo. Lewis, M. Flanagan, J. McCarty and William Pierce were continued for the term. John Pritchard, convicted of murder in the second degree for killing officer Symonds in Storey county, was denied a pardon.

Fred Brant, sent from Ormsby for assault to kill, was pardoned.

The board denied the following applications: Thomas Burns, in for murder, Lung Chung, for assault to kill, August Ritz, passing counterfeit money, L. Cassagrande, receiving stolen goods, Carmen Pina, robbery, and Chas. T. Lehmann, murder.

The case of M. Georgis, for robbery, was taken under advisement.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Annie Peterson, sent from Lander for arson, refused.

Ormus Nay, Elko car robbery, refused.

S. Espinozie, Lander, grand larceny, refused.

F. McIntyre, Lander, murder, refused.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

FRENCH FREEDOM.

The Fall of the Bastille Celebrated at the French Hotel.

As the clock struck the midnight hour, ushering in the 14th of July, a fusillade of Roman candles, rockets and fire crackers made Center street, in the vicinity of the French Hotel, seem like a scene of warfare, and crowds flocked down to see what the excitement was.

It was only the opening gun of the great gala day of the French Republic that proved such a staunch friend to the thirteen colonies in their hour of need.

For over eighteen years, ever since Mr. Bonnette has been a resident of Reno, the banner of Republican France has floated over his premises without fail on the 14th of July, the anniversary of the taking of the Bastille, and he has thrown open house to all his friends.

Monday evening he gave a fine banquet, lasting far past midnight, while fireworks lighted up the streets. Songs were sung and toasts drank away beyond the small hours of the morning.

What aroused the participants' enthusiasm and kept them in a blaze of gallic fervor was especially above all the toast of "Ma Belle France," to which Mr. Bonnette responded eloquently.

A Prosperous Company.

The Syrup of Figs Company held their annual meeting here yesterday. It is stated that they declared a dividend of $50,000. There are several of the stockholders in Reno and vicinity, among whom are J. J. Quinn, Judge Haydon, J. F. Condon and R. E. Queen. Mr. Queen, who was formerly a druggist at Reno, first compounded the medicine, which is now used in almost every household, and it was made and bottled in Reno for years. Now the company has a laboratory in San Francisco, and it paid about a quarter of a million for advertising in the last year.

The Reduction Works.

It is stated that the Reno Reduction Works, which were destroyed by fire last year, are to be rebuilt at an early day. The suit which the State brought against the company to determine the right to the water power has been dismissed and the title of the company is perfect. Archie Farington, a prominent member of the company, says the works are certain to be rebuilt.

Acquitted On the Ground of Insanity. Special to the Journal.

LONDON, July 14.—The trial of E. C. Duncan of San Francisco for a murderer's assault on his wife in Wales took place today. Duncan was acquitted on the ground of insanity, and the court ordered him detained in custody.

A Plea for City Playgrounds.

City children are undoubtedly happy
in their play, but I cannot watch them without sadness and a regret that the fuller pleasures of a country life will never be theirs at the time they are best fitted to enjoy them. The earnest pleading for a leaf or blossom from the flower laden tourist, returning from his outing, he passes up the street; the eager band of merry children in pursuit of a wandering butterfly—fairly like visitor from a strange land—tell of a formless longing for the unknown freedom of the woods and fields. What can we do to add to the joys of a youth which is all too brief? As you enter your high school, these boys and girls enter on the serious duties of life. Then follows the struggle for existence, and a severe one it usually is.
We cannot give all these children
homes in the country, we cannot give them all even an outing there; but we can give them playgrounds in the city;
a very little plot here and there will do.
We have reserved great parks and squares which we permit them to look at and sometimes to venture on. But as playgrounds these are practically useless; they are accessible to comparatively few. A vacant building lot in the proper district is far more to the purpose. Happy is the boy who lives near one! Notice the evidences of constant use it shows, the small baseball "diamond" clearly outlined, every smooth place pitted with marble holes.
What better investment could our cities make than to purchase small plots
like this at intervals throughout the city,
tear down the buildings, fill up the cellars,
and leave them, with no forbidding sign, open to the children. Their little feet would soon grade and harden the ground. In giving the nation's future workers such an opportunity to lay the foundation for stronger and healthier bodies and brighter wits the city would reap abundant interest on the capital invested.—Frank M. Chapman in St. Nicholas.

Honest New York Shop Girl.
A gentleman who lives in Cincinnati returned home a day or two ago after a fortnight's sojourn here deeply impressed with the honesty of the New York shop girl. On the day after his arrival in town he went into a large retail shop in Fourteenth street and made some trifling purchase. The next day he missed a pocketbook containing fifty dollars in currency.
He thought that he had mislaid it in his room at the hotel, and a diligent search was made for it. He gave it up as lost, and would have dismissed the matter
from his mind had not the clerk of the hotel suggested that he might possibly have left the pocketbook in some store.
The gentleman attached little importance to the suggestion, but about a week afterward he stepped into the Fourteenth street shop and laughingly asked one of the floor walkers if a pocketbook containing fifty dollars had been found there.
Much to his surprise, an affirmative answer was given, and in a few seconds his property was restored to him.
He learned that the saleswoman from whom he had made his purchase found the pocketbook on the counter after he had departed and promptly turned it in at the office.
"Are all your clerks as honest as that?"
asked the Cincinnati man.
"Certainly," replied the superintendent of the store. "We have never yet failed to return property lost in this store to claimants who could prove their right to it."
"Well, that beats some towns," said
the westerner. "Here's a 'V' for the saleswoman."—New York Times.

Those Wires on the Bridge.
Thousands of people cross the bridge every day, but comparatively few of them know much about the wires that are trained across the big structure.
They are there in great numbers and of almost endless variety. Their resting place is on the girders. Through them countless messages—telephonic and telegraphic—are transmitted at all hours of the day and night.
Some of them resemble ropes, but they are not, for each contains 500 telephone wires. Of these there are five. Besides them are many other black, snakelike strands, which are other means of communication with Brooklyn and points beyond. Of course, nearly everybody is aware that the land ends of the Atlantic cables of the Commercial company also cross the bridge, but their location is generally misunderstood. They are securely fastened to the under side of the promenade flooring, in plain view of passengers on the trains.—New York

Magnificent Tobacco Crop.
Good news for smokers comes from Havana. It is expected by the best authorities on the subject there that the present tobacco crop will even surpass that of ten years ago in quality and quantity. It promises, moreover, to "cure" early enough to enable it to be sampled by July. The interior harvests of the last nine years—with the exception of 1898, which was a comparatively good one—had all been late in arriving.
For instance, that of 1890, in spite of the most careful treatment, could not be got to "cure" fit for smoking until last January. The crop is roughly estimated at a quarter of a million bales, each of 100 pounds weight.—London Telegraph.

Flannel Shirt, No Waistcoat.
The washable waistcoats that come in many well chosen designs will be worn be worn with the choviet, but not the flannel shirt must be donned for comfort it is too warm to add the weight of the dressy waistcoat.—Clothing and Furnisher.

No Bids for the House.
The ancient house at Jedburg, in which Mary Queen of Scots resided for several weeks during her visit to the border counties in the autumn of 1586, was offered for sale at Edinburgh last week, but there were no bids for the quaint and interesting dwelling, which was reserved
at £2,200.—London Truth
